

Welcome HRE Wheels, the latest admired brand to join the Porsche Owners Club as a Sponsor.

How fortunate are we to have a SoCal based wheel manufacturer with this kind of reputation to be our Sponsor, attend our events and listen to our Members!

If you didn't attend the very successful Triple Crown event at AAA Speedway in Fontana recently, please note that HRE Wheels was there with a booth and an assortment of wheels to show and to answer questions. They will be at many, if not all of our events in the future.

This is a high quality company with the people and product to match.

I purchased a set of HRE wheels in 2004 for my new GT3. They looked great and everyone commented on them.

When I purchased my GT4, the first thing I did was purchase HRE wheels. They are beautiful and they are lightweight. The performance difference is noticeable.

When you see HRE staff at the track, stop by their booth and see firsthand what a wonderful product HRE manufactures. You'll be glad you did.

Decisions, Decisions

We offer a wide range of motorsport styles and price points to give you the competitive edge.

HRE Performance Wheels is proud to be the exclusive wheel sponsor of Porsche Owners Club.

Since 1978, HRE Performance Wheels has been the industry standard in creating trend-setting products and raising benchmarks for quality and service. HRE has dedicated its resources to building the finest custom wheels in the world. By utilizing the best materials available, we design, engineer and manufacture 3-piece and 1-piece forged aluminum alloy wheels - all of this from our TÜV-approved facility located in San Diego, CA. In addition, our cast flow formed line of wheels, HRE FlowForm, is a stylish, high-quality, lightweight option all at a lower price point.

Our expertise includes experience with exotic supercars, SUVs, pro-touring machines, championship-winning race cars, luxury cruisers, weekend track cars and everything in between. No matter the vehicle, we aim to deliver an unparalleled level of service, craftsmanship, and exclusivity. All HRE Forged, built-to-order wheel sets offer a customized choice of offsets, widths, and finishes, resulting in a uniquely personal style and performance solution for each customer's application. HRE wheels are sold through select high-end car dealerships, specialty retailers, and performance companies worldwide.

Our goal is to become your wheel resource offering relevant wheel options, service or just information. So please stop by the HRE booth or speak with an HRE representative at the next POC event.
